Laras tinggal bersama ayahnya di sebuah mercusuar di tepi laut. Setiap malam, ayah menyalakan lampu besar di puncak menara agar kapal-kapal tidak tersesat.

Laras lives with her father in a lighthouse by the sea. Every night, Father lights the big lamp at the top of the tower so ships do not lose their way.

Malam itu cuaca memburuk. Awan gelap menutup bulan dan ombak bergulung tinggi. Laras tidak bisa tidur karena suara angin.

That night the weather turned bad. Dark clouds covered the moon and the waves rolled high. Laras could not sleep because of the wind.

"Lampu ini seperti lagu pengantar tidur bagi para pelaut," kata ayah. "Selama ia menyala, mereka tahu jalan pulang." Laras memandang cahaya yang berputar pelan.

"This lamp is like a lullaby for sailors," said Father. "As long as it shines, they know the way home." Laras watched the light turn slowly.

Di kejauhan tampak sebuah perahu kecil terombang-ambing. Laras membantu ayah membersihkan kaca lampu agar cahayanya lebih terang.

Far away a small boat was tossed about. Laras helped Father clean the lamp glass so its light would shine brighter.

Perlahan perahu itu menemukan jalannya dan merapat ke pelabuhan. Para nelayan melambaikan tangan ke arah mercusuar.

Slowly the boat found its way and reached the harbor. The fishermen waved toward the lighthouse.

Badai mereda. Laras bersandar di jendela dan mendengar ombak yang kini tenang. Ia merasa bangga, lalu tertidur memeluk selimutnya. Cahaya di atas menara terus menjaga malam.

The storm faded. Laras leaned by the window and heard the calm waves. She felt proud and fell asleep hugging her blanket. The light above the tower kept watch over the night.
